Net finance revenue decreased vs. SPLY due to:

- Lower finance revenue caused by a decline in level of financial assets as bonds and equity investments were disposed
- Lower finance cost due to a decline in level of financial debt as long-term debt was settled

Market valuation gain on financial instruments at fair value through profit or loss decreased due to a lower level of financial assets as all bond investments and a majority of equity investments were disposed

Foreign exchange gain (loss) – FY14 posted a gain vs. a foreign exchange loss for FY13 due to currency translation adjustments and restatements of foreign currency denominated balances
